

7.7.7: THE GATEWAY IS COMPLETE

I am Metatron. As the 7.7.7 gateway is complete you are undergoing an absolute change in consciousness as a community. This change is one which perhaps is very uncomfortable to some of you, to others it may feel like serious conflict, and so some of your issues may be fully triggered. A very few of you may experience this completion as JOY, and to those I say this: Your time is coming – for everyone of you will process this change mentally, emotionally, and spiritually! Every one of you will process your issues as you integrate this energy!

The removal of the first veil is the reason for the turmoil some of you may be feeling. As the veil is removed between the dimensions two dissimilar groups of entities, humans and astral beings, are brought into contact. The ‘normal’ process when this happens is for conflict to evolve as the two cultures are integrated. So it is now. With the removal of the veil, the elemental beings (Troll, Elves, Fairies, Gnomes, Nature Spirits, and discarnate spirits) are merging into the world of humans. Normally the world of humans and the world of these beings are kept separate by the veil, and neither side perceives the other. Only psychically sensitive individuals have been able to see, hear, feel, or communicate with these beings. Now their world and the human world are merging. The result is adjustment and assimilation after conflicts are resolved.

This opening of the veil removes the first layer of forgetting for most of humanity. For the beings on the other side of the veil, perhaps it is a remembering – this may be bittersweet for all parties involved. As the veil opened, the ‘grids’ for information were completely activated. Before the gateway completion, the grids were in place, and encoded with information – lineage’s – mystery teachings – various energies. As the gateway was completed the grids were activated to beam this information to you, not just hold it. Information is not knowledge; it simply coddles the ego to allow it to feel comfort in a process that will eventually defeat the ego. Information is the beginning of knowledge, and part of the triad of knowledge, experience, and finally wisdom.

The opening of these grids, to beam to you that which humanity must have to become enlightened, is the starting of a massive wake up call being transmitted now. This energy of the gateway has a great deal to do with activating the third wave. Many of you know what the third wave is about, for those of you who don't the third wave refers to activation of a large group of beings who have agreed to serve humanity in bringing about the enlightenment necessary to create ascension. The first wave was activated in 1982, the second in 1989; this new energy marks the activation of the third now – 1997.

In the first wave a few hundred thousand were involved in awakening to spirit and service. The second wave involved less than 4 percent of the population. The third wave involves approximately 34 percent of the earthly population. They will be responsible for teaching and awakening the rest of humanity until the majority of the population is living from spirit in this new way. Most of you reading this are first and second wave. You may be volunteering to assist in training the teachers of the third wave, for as they awaken, they will be in tremendous need of assistance. These individuals may suddenly become able to see, hear, and feel the other beings now inhabiting the world. This awareness may be instant. One day their perceptions may be normal, the next they are completely open to spiritual perception. Remember this will be happening in very large numbers worldwide within a three-year cycle. Can you imagine the potential confusion?

Teachers are critically needed NOW as a result of this energetic change.

Light is a force: that force will not be stopped, it cannot be stopped! Light will transform everything in time. With the 7.7.7 completion, phenomena will increase. Notice the phenomena around you on or just before the 7.7.7 – crop circles, sightings, etc., and know that it will continually increase. Pay attention, what you wish for may be what you get. Knowledge can never be unlearned. Once on the spiritual path, you are on a path of initiation, and you can never return to the 'you' which existed before you began the journey. You can only go forward, completing the journey. Walk the path with joy!
